Certified Technical Excellence

All our flagship materials Calacatta Pearl, Ameba Beige, and Imperador Beige have undergone comprehensive testing and certification by Certimac (Notified Body No. 2685, Italy) and independent local laboratories, proving their performance for demanding architectural applications.

Key technical results include

Flexural Strength (EN 12372) — 11.6 ± 3.5 MPa

Ensures structural reliability and resistance to bending forces, vital for facade claddings and large-format panels.

Frost Resistance (EN 12371) — No visible defects after 14 freeze/thaw cycles

Confirms long-term durability even in severe outdoor climate conditions.

Breaking Load at Fixing Holes (EN 13364)

— 2,700—3,400 N average

Guarantees safe mechanical anchoring and secure installation of ventilated facade systems.

Local Laboratory Testing

High apparent density (~ 2.24 g/cm³)

Very low water absorption (<0.7%)

Abrasion resistance Category 2—3

Demonstrates long-lasting resistance to moisture, wear and surface damage.

Designed for Luxury and Longevity

Terrastone products are engineered to meet the highest expectations of architects, designers, and premium real estate developers

Aesthetic Excellence — Distinctive natural veining, rich color tones, and elegant surface finishes bring timeless beauty to any space.

Technical Reliability — Certified European standards ensure consistent strength, safety, and long-term performance.

Weatherproof and Low Maintenance — Resistant to frost, humidity, and environmental stress, reducing lifecycle costs.

Versatile Applications — Ideal for façades, exterior cladding, interior floors, walls, countertops, and bespoke luxury furnishings.

Sustainable Sourcing and Production — Ethical stone sourcing and efficient manufacturing processes minimize environmental impact.

Our Promise

We craft natural stone with precision, passion, and responsibility. Every slab from Terrastone represents authentic natural beauty, advanced engineering, and certified quality, giving our partners full confidence in both performance and prestige.
